The charm and coziness of this house are evident as soon as you enter. While it retains its cozy atmosphere, it's also surprisingly comfortable. In addition, it has vast potential for expansion, with previous expansion plans already approved (although currently expired), and an annex that can be incorporated to facilitate any future project.

This house has a cesspool, electricity and municipal water, and the plumbing has already been replaced to ensure its functionality. There are several rooms for storage, including a wine cellar, under the attic, which can be converted into a separate full duplex with its own entrance if required.

In addition, the recent replacement of the roof in the main area of the house ensures its durability. The house consists of three bedrooms, two bathrooms, a cozy living room and an old kitchen with fireplace, which adds a touch of nostalgia. The plot of land covers 1150 m², with a gross construction area of 105 m².

Although it needs some work, the house is perfectly livable, and its outdoor patio is a lovely space to enjoy al fresco dining and socializing time. This property is the promise of a tranquil life in the countryside, where growth potential and history come together to create a truly special place.
